The mayor is the first citizen of the city and is shouldered with the responsibility to engage in activities that relate to the administrative and communal aspects of the city. The mayor is the presiding officer of the City Council composed of Elected Representatives in the Urban Local Government.

In this competition, we expect participants to give a speech in their first council meeting after the new election, similar to the one provided by the real-life Mayor. In such a meeting, the mayor delivers the policy framework of the majority political party for the future term in office, highlighting critical choices, changes in the administration's structure, and so on.

This competition's primary objective is to enhance the participant's leadership skills, enabling them to explore the third tier of the governance mechanism in India and understand the intricacies involved in policy formulation and implementation.

“A good story needs a good storyteller.”

An unfolding tragedy in our modern times involves the pursuit of modernization and economic progress at the expense of the only home we have: our planet Earth. The irony of it all is that humankind’s very own hands contribute to his own home’s destruction. Many of our actions, however small, add to the problem but so does our indifference. We believe to solve a problem we first have to bring it to light and discuss it.

Hence, the School Human Settlements as an event in Unnovations'22 is conducting SAGA a storytelling competition. We invite all Undergraduate students to participate in SAGA, on the theme of the 'Effects of Urban Development on The Environment around me. Each contestant would have to prepare an intriguing story about how they saw their city change and how it made an impact on the social and ecological environment (Good or Bad).

We at the School of Human Settlements hope to bring to the fore an appreciation for sustainable and inclusive growth and planning highlighted through storytelling, which in turn should convince audiences and participants to start caring for the environment and being mindful of how they can help in protecting it and conserving the resources and people in their surroundings.

The pinnacle of creativity is the capacity to change into someone or something else. Face painting certainly conjures up pictures of carnivals and fairs in your imagination. It is a legitimate art form, and the artists who use their clients' faces as their canvases for innovative designs or fantastical characters have fantastic talent. People of all ages can express their creativity through face painting. It's an enjoyable method to delve into the realms of imagination and art. The possibilities are only limited by your creativity with only a little face paint and a few brush strokes!

We at the School of Human Settlements, XIM University hope to bring to the fore an opportunity for the participants to showcase their artistic talents and portray the given topic in the most aesthetic and relevant manner. We invite all the undergraduates and high school students to participate in the face painting competition at Unnovations'22.

Bollywood and freestyle dance are a fusion of traditional and popular Indian dance and music. In older films, bollywood dances are sometimes depicted as fusions of Middle Eastern and popular dance styles or as pure classical dance performances.

With time and cultural shifts, the Bollywood/Freestyle dance genre has evolved and incorporated a wide variety of Folk/classical dance forms into their choreographies. People worldwide have been drawn to embrace this dance form as their daily regimen of exercise since they are group dances and dancing to upbeat music! Indian and international artists of today, particularly the younger generation, have been significantly impacted by Bollywood dance and music.

Nrithya, a super thrilling dance event organized by the HabituX committee of SHS, puts front a platform to hunt more talented dancers and encourage them to showcase their talent on this platform.
